

D. J. & W. J. Perrigard GROCERIES

—AND—

General Merchandise

Where you get a square deal.

Mt. Vernon Street, Fairbanks Village

Phone 560

St. Johnsbury, Vt.

BIG CHAUTAUQUA PROGRAM GIVEN AT LUNENBURG

Instructive Lectures and Entertaining Concerts
Enjoyed

Despite the lowering clouds on Tuesday afternoon the auditorium of the Congregational church was well filled when at 2:30, P. D. Hale, president of the local association, spoke briefly of what the Chautauqua did for the community last year and the anticipations for this year and introducing Mrs. Pearl Aikin-Smith, the superintendent, who won all hearts immediately by her charming personality.

Mrs. Smith spoke of the beauties of the Vermont scenery at this period of the year with its changing foliage, of our library, and of the feeling of friendship shown by our townspeople, going on to the meaning of the Chautauqua movement and then of "The Evening Lamp" of the beautiful memories which will always remain with the child who gathers about the evening lamp with the family and of mother as she reads the stories which all children love and what one misses who has no such memories, illustrating her talk with charmingly told stories which interested young and old alike.

Mrs. Smith then introduced the North Atlantic Artists, Miss Angabelle Krell, pianist and reader, Mr. Schenk and Mr. Fisher, who gave the musical program of the afternoon most delightfully. Miss McCiegary met the juniors after the program for the junior work.

At 8 p. m., the church was again filled to capacity the audience again enjoying the prelude by the North Atlantic Artists and listened with rapt attention to Julius Cuesar Nayphe who gave a lecture on the manners and customs of the life of a family of the upper class in Palestine, prefacing his talk by his adventures on first coming to America and the difficulties of the language with its phrases of double meaning so hard for a foreigner to understand, and many comical mistakes which Mr. Nayphe and his sister unwittingly made during the first weeks in America. The platform was filled with the most wonderful embroideries and tapestries, of wonderful workmanship and fabulous cost—genuine pieces belonging to Mr. Nayphe and his family. He was assisted by Misses Lunnie, Powers and Fuller of Gilman and Misses Blood, McLaughlin and Brown of Lunenburg who posed in costume under Mr. Nayphe's direction for a wedding scene, making a reproduction of the painting of the "Oriental Wedding" which hangs in the Art Museum in Boston, Mass., using the real embroideries and costumes. The Whirling Dervish dance and the reception and entertainment of guests was also portrayed vividly by Mr. Nayphe who invited any who wished to examine the tapestries after the lecture and only those who accepted can comprehend the magnificence of the work as the limited stage room made it impossible to exhibit the draperies satisfactorily.

Wednesday afternoon Margery Gage Smith and her Festival Hour gave the afternoon program and Hon. Charles H. Poole of New Zealand spoke on "Social Redemption" in the evening.

It is difficult to see how they can print any newspapers in Europe, with the presses printing money all the time.

KENNEDY SAYS VOLSTEAD ACT CAN BE MODIFIED

Would Permit Sale of Light Wines and Beers

James E. Kennedy of Burlington democratic candidate for Congress against F. G. Fleetwood of Morrisville, and to succeed Congressman Frank L. Greene of St. Albans further defines his position as a "wet" candidate. He says in an open letter to Editor Cushing of the St. Albans Messenger:

If I understand you correctly you are of the opinion that it is impossible to modify the Volstead Act, liberalize it, as it were, to the extent of permitting the manufacture and sale of wines and beers and remain within the prescription of the Eighteenth Amendment.

I feel that you are wrong in this respect. Even the most ardent advocates of the Volstead Act fear that modification may take place and by some of the zealous advocates of the law absolute repeal is feared.

A no lesser person than William H. Anderson, Anti-Saloon League superintendent in New York, has said:

"Prohibition is cracking some places. If beer and wine is legalized, that will be collapse."

Anderson says nothing about it being impossible to modify the Volstead Act. He fears modification.

You say there must be an enforcement act. I agree with you, but if the enforcement act is beyond enforcing then it nullifies its intent and is useless.

And this is the kind of an enforcement act we have at the present time and have had since Oct. 28, 1919, an act that has created a near-army of law violators, an increase in crime and an increase in drunkenness.

You ask me to define my plan of modification. I am well satisfied that the Volstead Act should be modified to permit the manufacture of wholesome beer and light wines which are in fact and in truth non-intoxicating, and therefore not honestly within the scope of the amendment.

Permit the average man and woman to legally be permitted to obtain the beer and the wine he or she desires and you will have, presto, destroyed the bootlegger of his customers, for I am sure the average man and the average woman will be satisfied with the wholesome beer and the light wine that all should be able to obtain under a proper modification of the Volstead law.

Unless I am misinformed, (and surely all the reading I have had on the subject proves what I am to say) that the nation of beer and wine drinkers are not nations of drunkards, but on the contrary are the most temperate nations of the globe.

You must know that the law under which we are now living is growing up a generation of "hard" drinkers, i. e., drinkers of hard liquors, most of whom boast of the fact that they can "get all they want" and that they rejoice in defeating the law.

As an economic measure you will have to admit that the Volstead Act is a failure.

In your editorial you ask: "Do we want to turn our backs on the party of Lincoln," and I say no, assuredly no. I, for one American citizen, am willing to stay with the memory of the man who said "A house divided against itself cannot stand," and if the Volstead Act has not divided the house of America then I do not know what division is. With 63 per cent of the votes cast in the poll of the Literary Digest favoring modification of the Volstead Act to 37 per cent against modification, it would see that there is a division and that the minority is at present in control.

And, again, from Lincoln: "No man is good enough to govern another man without that other's consent."

Assuring you Mr. Volstead never had my consent, I am, very gratefully yours,

J. E. Kennedy.

Select Officers

For C. O. F.

The following officers of the C. O. F. for the coming year were elected last night: Chief Ranger, Dr. J. A. Drouin; vice chief ranger, Robert Stenson; ex-chief ranger, Fortunat Velleux; arch secretary, Armand Destroismain; financial secretary, A. C. LeClerc; treasurer, Thomas Legendre; orator, R. Brunelle; trustees, Aimes Boucher, Napoleon St. Cyr, Achille Dutilleul; marshal, Henri Couture; conductor, Felix Desrocher, Aimes Boucher; sentinels, Alfred Daniel, Eugene Bedard.

Chas. O. Blake

The Auto Spring Doctor. General Machine Work.

Bay Street

St. Johnsbury, Vt.

P. E. Bernier & Co.

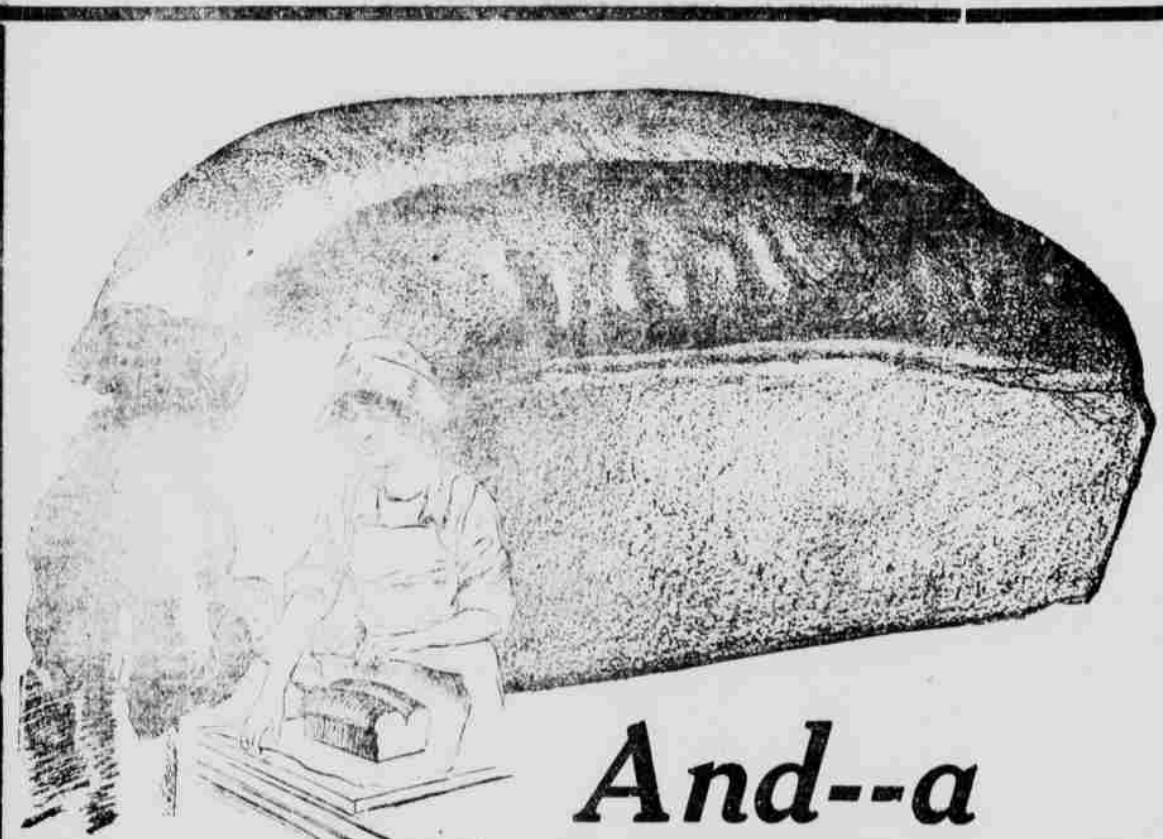

BARBERS

Billiard Parlor, Cigars, Tobacco, etc.

Summerville Wood Yard

GREY & GREY

Wood and Coal
Gulf Gasoline

And--a Loaf of Bread

IN ordering food, Bread is seldom left out. It is the mainstay of the meal. It has been the staff of life since biblical times.

There is no greater body builder than good, wholesome Bread.

Ours is fresh Bread baked daily in our own ovens and delivered to you the same day. You'll realize the difference in the taste.

The George H. Cross Co.

Wholesale Bakers and Confectioners.

A Fox Trot This Time, Professor!

A Victrola Phonograph in your home is like having the most accomplished musicians always ready to perform at your command.

The greatest artists of the day are making records for the Victrola Phonograph, and you owe it to yourself and family to enjoy their music. We've a variety of Victrola Phonographs at a wide range of prices—come in today and select yours!

BAILEY'S Music Rooms

J. W. RICKER Modern Shoe Repair

Shoes Mended while U wait. We use the very best leather in the market. All work guaranteed.

Remember: Your shoes resoled by us means practically new shoes with the comfort of the old.

W. J. RICKER
42 Railroad Street
St. Johnsbury, Vt.

DR. J. G. WARD VETERINARY SURGEON

No. 90 Portland Street

St. Johnsbury, Vt.

GET YOUR SHOES SHINED
and hat cleaned at the
SHOE SHINE PARLOR
ON THE AVENUE

THOMAS BELANGER

88 Portland Street
Buys Hides and Skins.
Good Price. Cash Paid.

Summerville Wood Yard

GREY & GREY

Wood and Coal
Gulf Gasoline

Here's All You Need in HARDWARE

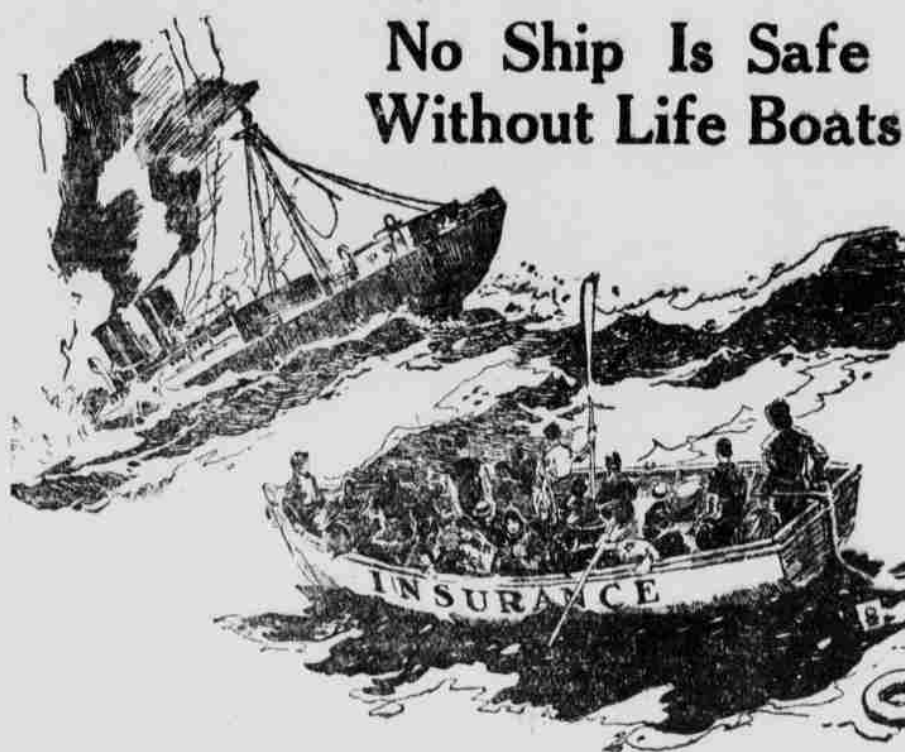

WE'RE prepared to take care of all of your Hardware needs—from tacks to boilers. There are scores of such things you'll need during the winter, and it's true economy to provide yourself.

It's pleasant to buy your Hardware here, too, where stocks are complete, and you can always find the article you need—at the right prices.

The Peck Company HARDWARE

39 Railroad Street St. Johnsbury, Vt.

Tel. 412-M

No Ship Is Safe Without Life Boats

No Man Is Safe Without Insurance

YOU never hear of an ocean liner without enough life boats to protect every passenger! Then why should a man be sailing the uncharted seas of life without enough insurance to protect every member of his family? The analogy is very close.

Have you met your obligations to your family and your business?

We handle every kind of insurance to afford protection to your family, your business and your property. Our connections are with the oldest and most reliable companies. Phone—and we shall be glad to call.

IMPEY & CUMMINGS